Before arriving to Milan

How to arrive to Milan

Nearest airports:

Linate (LIN)

- small airport,
- closest to Milan,
- can be reached with the metro from city center (20 min), usually for flights from EU

Malpensa (MXP)

- biggest airport with intercontinental flights,
- can be reached with train/bus/taxi from city center (40 min- 1 hr from Milan)

Bergamo (BGY)

- smaller airport,
- mostly flights from EU,
- can be reached with bus/taxi from city center (45-50 min from Milan)

Websites to search and compare your flight options:

- skyscanner
- eDreams

Tips

A helpful website to plan your trip's transport, especially when it requires mixing different types of transportation: Rome2Rio

Main train stations:

Centrale (main train station)

Garibaldi

Cadorna

All these train stations have the Malpensa Express train, the specific train that takes you to Malpensa airport.

For most intercity trains within Europe, Centrale might be a more common option.

Websites to book your train:

- Italian trains:
  - Trenitalia
  - Italo
- Other trains:
  - Trainline
  - Omio

Finding accomodation

For accommodation, students usually arrange their own apartments or rooms for rent, as preferences and budgets vary from person to person. Our school does not have dedicated dormitories. However, we are happy to suggest reliable accommodation websites and recommend safe and convenient areas to stay in Milan.

Milan Fashion Campus is located between the Lima and Porta Venezia metro stations on the M1 red line. For a short walking distance, you may consider areas such as Porta Venezia, Lima / Corso Buenos Aires, Loreto, Palestro, or Repubblica. We generally advise avoiding accommodation very close to the Centrale station area, as it is not the most comfortable area to walk around at night. If accommodation in these areas is not available, reaching the school is still very easy from any location along the M1 red line.

Housing tips

hidden fees to lookout for, red flags to avoid, what to do once we get it, avoiding scams, etc

What to look for

- minimum stay duration
- payment frequency (monthly, fortnightly, etc.)
- type of contract (daily, monthly, etc.)
- extra fees (registration fee, deposit, agency commissions, etc.)
- refund policy and late check-in charges
- arrival and departure dates
- reviews on multiple platforms such as booking.com, google, hostelworld, etc.)
- the existence of shared spaces
- the offer of wi-fi
- after the contract is signed, the landlord has one week to give you a certificate of registration in the Agencia delle Entrate
- if appliances are included (cleaning fees, electricity, water, internet, condominium fees, etc.)

What to avoid

- platforms with extra fees and complex terms
- places where the owner does not want to make a video call to present it
- places where the photos look copied from agencies
- sending any amount of money before seeing the place
- prices way below Milan's average
- hidden extra costs
- no written contract
- cash only options
- rooms where you are not sure how many people you are sharing the apartment with
- ground floor apartments
- pressure to decide and pay immediately
- signing the contract without reading it carefully

Visa

(non-EU students)

If you are coming to Italy from outside the European Union, checking visa requirements early is an essential step when planning your stay in Milan.
Visa rules and processing times vary depending on nationality and the Italian Consulate handling the application. There is no fixed timeline that applies to everyone.

How Much Time Should You Plan?

In general, visa processing may take:

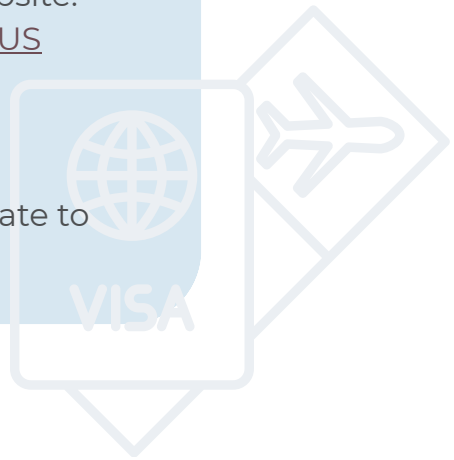

- Several weeks
- Up to 2–3 months or more, especially during busy periods

For this reason, we strongly recommend starting your visa research at least 3 months before your intended course start date.

Where to Get Official Information

For accurate and updated information, always refer to the official Italian government visa website:
👉 https://vistoperitalia.esteri.it/?lang=en_US
Here you can check:

- Whether you need a visa
- Estimated processing times
- The correct Italian Embassy or Consulate to contact

Important Note

Milan Fashion Campus is a private vocational school and does not act as a visa sponsor.
Visa decisions are made exclusively by the Italian authorities.
Planning ahead will help you prepare your stay in Milan more smoothly and with less stress.

Clothes to pack

Don’t forget the temperatures in Milan are not very defined, and they can change a lot daily and in each season, so pack wisely!

Winter (December - February)

Even though it does not snow in Milan during the winter, the humidity makes it seem colder.

- warm coat
- sweaters and thermal layers
- waterproof shoes or boots
- scarves, gloves, hat
- thick socks

Autumn (September - November)

Autumn in Milan tends to be mildy to cool, with considerable rain.

- mid-weight jacket
- sweaters and layers
- long trousers
- closed shoes
- scarf
- umbrella and a raincoat

Spring (March - May)

In spring, the weather in Milan is very unstable, it rains a lot, so summer clothes are not appropriate, even if during the day it can be warmer.

- light jacket or trench coat
- sweater or cardigan
- long-sleeve tops
- jeans or light trousers
- waterproof shoes or sneakers
- scarf

Summer (June - August)

Summer in Milan is very hot and humid with occasional rain, so pack light!

- breathable clothing (cotton, linen)
- t-shirts, light dresses
- shorts or long skirts
- sandals and comfortable sneakers
- sunglasses and sunscreen
- light jacket for air conditioning spaces

Documents to bring

Italy is a very bureaucratic country, so if you are staying 3 months or longer, you need to be aware of the documents you need to bring to go through it, either buying a ticket pass or asking for a Permesso di Soggiorno (permission to stay)

EU students

Even though you don't need a visa to stay in Italy, you might need other italian services that require documentation, such as signing a housing contract, for example.

- valid passport or national ID card
- European Health Insurance Card (EHIC/TEAM)
- course enrollment acceptance or confirmation letter
- proof of accommodation (rental contract or host declaration)
- proof of financial means

non-EU students

You may need to apply to a Permesso di Soggiorno after your arrival to Italy. For this reason you may need to bring the following documents:

- passport (valid for the entire stay)
- italian study visa (type D)
- school enrollment/acceptance letter
- proof of accommodation in Italy
- health insurance valid in Italy
- proof of financial means
- visa application documents copy

all students

- printed copy of all documents
- digital backups
- emergency contacts
- International Driving Licence (only if you plan on driving)
- several passport-size photos

Tips

Always bring more documents than you need. Italian offices ask for originals and copies, sometimes without notice.

Arriving to Milan

How to get to the city center

from Linate (LIN)

- you can take the metro line M4 blue that takes you to the city center in about 15 min
- there is also shuttle buses that take to and from the airport
- local buses like 73 or X73 connect the airport with the San Babila area.
- you can take a taxi, which is fairily inexpensive from Linate since it is a very central airport.

from Malpensa (MXP)

- you can take the Malpensa Express train that departs from the main train stations in the city (Centrale, Garibaldi or Cadorna) and it takes about 50 min
- there are shuttle buses departing from the Central Station
- taxis can be taken, but are not recommended since they are very expensive and can take longer than the train depending on the trafic

from Bergamo (BGY)

- in the Central station you can take a shuttle bus that takes directly to the airport in about 50 min
- taxis are a option, even though they can be considerably expensive, so buses are prefered

Reliable Shuttle companies

When taking a shuttle bus we recommend the following companies:

- Terravision
- Autostradale
- Flibco
- Flixbus
- GoOpti
- StarFly

Tips

Usually the train to Malpensa and the metro to Linate are the best options, but beware of the frequent transport strikes in Milan. In case of strike we suggest using the shuttle buses that are from private companies and are always working.

Moving around in the city

ATM tickets, map system, abbonamento

Train and buses tickets

Inside Milan's metropolitan area, every ticket can be used for metro, trams and buses.
You can buy those tickets at:

- the machines at train/metro stations
- taccherias near the train stations
- on the ATM Milano app
- you can tap your contactless card or cellphone on the validators you find on the transport.

Travel Passes

If you are staying longer, we recommend you do a travel pass, this way you get discounted tickets).
You can get those at the ATM Points or at the ATM Milano app.
You can get

- Under 26
- Monthly Pass

Taxi apps & the numbers

Even though Uber is very popular worldwide, in Milan, we usually recommend ordering taxis instead, if you can. You can order it from:

- Free Now
- It Taxi
- Uber

Or you can use the oficial Milan taxi numbers:

- 02 4040
- 02 6969
- 02 8585

Tips

Always remember to validate your tickets whenever you are using public transportation. If you don't validate, the fiscals can charge you a fee.

SIM card

names of companies, estimated price, etc

If you are coming from a non-EU country, we recommend you get a SIM card, so you can have access to the internet wherever you are. The main SIM companies in Italy are:

- TIM
- WINDTRE
- Vodafone
- Iliad

You can find these companies stores all over Milan.

If you are staying for a short time, we suggest you buy a tourist SIM. You can find those at the official stores of the following companies:

- TIM
- Vodafone

Or you can find them at Tabaccherias at the main train stations in Milan:

- Milano Centrale
- Milano Cadorna

Main Travel SIM brands

- Airalo
- Holafly
- Nomad eSIM
- Orange Holiday
- Three UK
- Vodafone Travel

Tips

Avoid buying chips from street vendors, unofficial kiosks, or buying online from unofficial websites.

Essential Italian

In Italy there is a lot of people that doesn't speak english, so you need to learn at least some basic phrases, in case you need it, and they are also going to be way nicer if you try to speak at least a couple words in Italian.

basic conversation

- ciao – hi / bye
- buongiorno – hello (daytime)
- buonasera – hello (evening)
- grazie – thank you
- per favore – please
- scusa – sorry / excuse me

- carta – card
- contanti – cash
- uscita - exit

buongiorno

buonasera
come va
vorrei un/una

emergency

- medico - doctor
- farmacia - farmacy
- polizia - police
- aiuto - help
- non capisco - I don't understand
- inglese - english
- borseggiatrice - pickpocket
- sciopero - strike

housing

- ciao – hi / bye
- buongiorno – hello (daytime)
- buonasera – hello (evening)
- grazie – thank you
- per favore – please
- scusa – sorry / excuse me
- quanto? – how much?
- carta – card
- contanti – cash
- uscita - exit

Bureaucracy (For non-EU students staying more than 90 days)

After arriving in Italy with your long-term visa, you will need to complete a few mandatory administrative steps after your arrival.
These procedures are normal and required by Italian law. Most of the time, the embassy might have explained or mentioned it when handing in your visa.

step 1 Codice Fiscale (Italian Tax Code)

The Codice Fiscale is an essential personal identification number in Italy.

You will need it for almost everything, including:

- Health insurance
- Permesso di Soggiorno application
- Rental contracts
- Opening a bank account
- Buying a SIM card

It is recommended to apply for it 1-2 days after arrival.

Where

Agenzia delle Entrate – Milano 1
Via della Moscova 2, 20121, Milano
Metro: M3 Turati

Opening hours

Monday to Friday,
09:00 – 13:00

Appointment booking

agenziaentrate.gov.it/portale/prenota-un-appuntamento

Booking path:

1. Prenota un appuntamento
2. Assistenza fiscale
3. Identificativi fiscali, abilitazioni, consegna documenti e istanze
4. Appuntamenti per i prossimi giorni (or Webticket valido per oggi)
5. Per te stesso → Prima richiesta di codice fiscale

You may use the school address when asked for an Italian address and select the Milano 1 office.

Bring with you

- Passport (original + copy)
- Visa (if applicable)
- Enrollment letter from Milan Fashion Campus

If you are at school during opening hours, we can assist you with booking the appointment.

Bureaucracy (For non-EU students staying more than 90 days)

step 2 Apply for the Permesso di Soggiorno

You must submit your Permesso di Soggiorno application within 8 days of entering Italy.

Where

Poste Italiane – Milano Cordusio
Via Cordusio 4, 20123 Milano
Metro: M1 Cordusio
Ask for the “Kit Giallo” (yellow kit).

Once you have received the kit, collect all the following documents and put them inside the kit

Documents to include (photocopies only)

- Passport (photo page, visa, entry stamp)
- Codice Fiscale
- Enrollment certificate from MFC
- Proof of accommodation in Milan
- Proof of health insurance (if you already have it, see the next page)
- Proof of financial means
- (approx. €450/month or €5,400/year)
- €16 Marca da bollo (from any Tabacchi shop)

When you have collected all the documents, bring the completed kit and bring along your original passport and original documents (outside the kit, not to be submitted) back to the post office.

Important!

- Do not include original documents in the kit; they will be lost forever
- Do not seal the envelope

Fees to pay

- €30 application fee (when submitting)
- €70.46 electronic permit card (when submitting, this fee is for a 1-year permit)
- €16 Marca da bollo that you have bought in the Tabacchi shop.

After submission, you will receive:

- A receipt confirming your legal stay (keep it carefully)
- A letter with your Questura appointment details (automatically assigned, not possible to choose ourselves)

Tip to avoid long queues

- Book a ticket via the “Poste Italiane” app (Prenota ticket → Sportello Amico)
- Or go early in the morning, ideally before 9:00

Bureaucracy

(For non-EU students staying more than 90 days)

step 3 Health Insurance

To apply for the Permesso di Soggiorno, you must show valid health insurance covering your entire stay in Italy.

Option A – Private Health Insurance (Recommended)

Private insurance is the fastest and simplest option for most students. We recommend WAItaly, a provider specifically designed for international students.

Website: https://www.waitaly.net/en

The insurance must include:

- Emergency care & hospitalization
- Medical Repatriation due to illness or injury
- Full coverage for your entire stay
- Minimum coverage of €30,000

You could also get this insurance before submitting the yellow kit at the post office.

Option B – Italian Public Health System (SSN)

You may also register with the Italian public health system (SSN). In this case, it's called iscrizione volontaria. Not available for tourist visa holders.

Important notes

- Cost: approximately €700 per calendar year
- Valid until 31 December (not 12 months from registration)
- Codice Fiscale is required before registration

Steps

1. Pay via F24 form (tax code 8846, region code 10) at the nearest Poste Italiane.
2. Book an appointment with your local ASL office (closest address to school: via A. Doria 52)
3. Complete the registration in person
4. If available, you could also request it online without going to the ASL office through this website: sr.asst-fbf-sacco.it

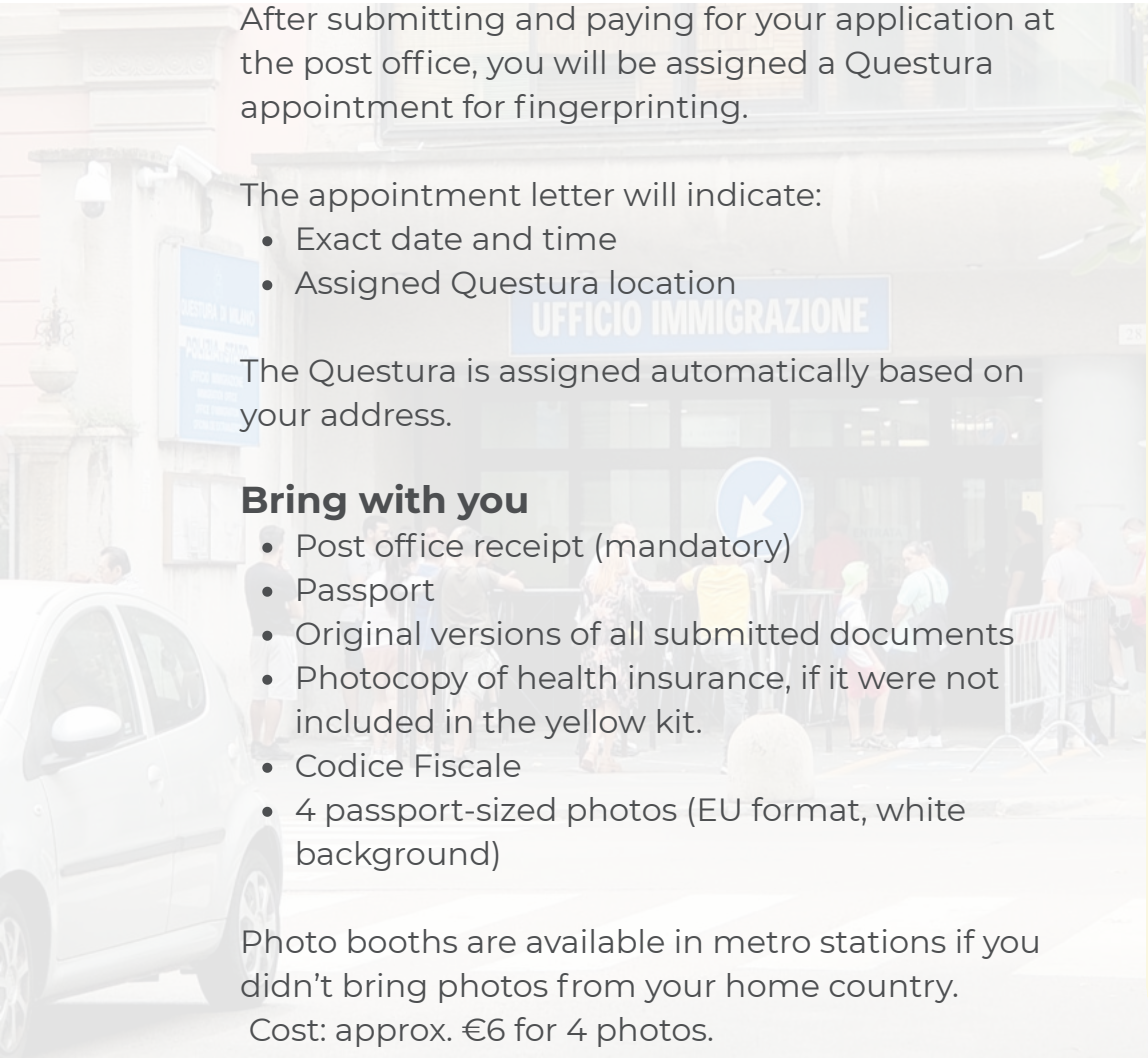

Bring

- Passport
- Codice Fiscale
- F24 payment receipt
- Enrollment letter
- Permesso application receipt (if already submitted)

Bureaucracy

(For non-EU students staying more than 90 days)

step 4 Questura Appointment (Fingerprinting)

After submitting and paying for your application at the post office, you will be assigned a Questura appointment for fingerprinting.

The appointment letter will indicate:

- Exact date and time
- Assigned Questura location

The Questura is assigned automatically based on your address.

Bring with you

- Post office receipt (mandatory)
- Passport
- Original versions of all submitted documents
- Photocopy of health insurance, if it were not included in the yellow kit.
- Codice Fiscale
- 4 passport-sized photos (EU format, white background)

Photo booths are available in metro stations if you didn't bring photos from your home country.
Cost: approx. €6 for 4 photos.

What to expect

- Even though your appointment letter shows a specific time, the actual process does not follow it strictly.
- When you arrive, you'll see a police officer or clerk collecting receipts from people waiting.
- People are usually called in order of the collected receipt, not by appointment time. If your receipt is collected earlier, you may finish earlier.
- Waiting time may vary:
  - Quiet days: 30–60 minutes
  - Busy days: 2–3 hours or more
- The permesso di soggiorno will be ready within 1 month after the appointment.

Tip

- Arrive 30–45 minutes early (not more, they won't let you in) and bring something to read while waiting.
- Dress neatly and appropriately.
- Greet the officers politely, saying "Buongiorno"

Welcome to MFC

About MFC

Milan Fashion Campus began as an innovative online education platform and later evolved into a physical fashion school based in Milan, one of the world's most influential fashion capitals.

Founded by Angelo Russica, former designer at Gianni Versace, the Campus was created with a clear mission: to spread Italian fashion culture and professional know-how to the next generation of fashion talents.

Milan Fashion Campus promotes an inclusive and accessible approach to fashion education through short, intensive, and bespoke courses. These programs allow students to immerse themselves in the fashion industry without committing years to traditional academic paths.

With compact, boot-camp–style courses starting every Monday, the Campus welcomes people from all walks of life. This flexible structure makes fashion education accessible to beginners, career changers, and professionals from all over the world.

The course offering ranges from Streetwear Design and Artificial Intelligence in Fashion to immersive programs such as the Milan Fashion Week Experience, ensuring there is something to inspire every fashion enthusiast.

Milan Fashion Campus also pioneers personalized learning paths, tailoring courses to each student's specific goals and interests. Small class sizes allow for continuous guidance, personalized feedback, and close development of both technical and creative skills.

Meet the Team

Angelo Russica is the Director of Milan Fashion Campus. He not only had the privilege of working alongside creative legends like Gianni Versace, but he also built a strong foundation within the industrial side of fashion. His formative years included a pivotal experience in Madrid, Spain, where he worked inside the Induyco Group – the fashion division of retail giant El Corte Inglés. This dual exposure allowed Angelo to develop a rare, balanced perspective that blends artistic vision with the realities of production and supply chain management.

Catherine is a fashion designer and educator based in Milan. She obtained her fashion education from the Nuova Accademia di Belle Arti (NABA). With a strong professional background and a deep passion for both new technology and sustainability, she dedicates her efforts to shaping the future of fashion professionals.
